Biopulsar Reflexograph®
Biodynamical Electro-Chirogramme

It is known from reflexology that certain parts of the hand have an energetic link to the organs of the body. According to ancient Eastern healing science, the individual zones on the hand are connected not only with the body organs and the consciousness, but also with colour and the subtle energy centres. The art of hand diagnosis plays an important medical, spiritual and prognostic role in the Asian culture. In ancient Chinese and Indian medical systems, diagnosis and therapeutic recommendations are made based on information gained through certain areas of the face, ear, foot and hand – the so-called reflex zones. The consistency, colour, wrinkles and form of the skin reveal on the energy level of the body organs and the psyche. Neural therapy also works through the reflex zones of the skin.

The Biopulsar-Reflexograph® is based on the latest computer technology combined with the scientific basis of the reflex zone and meridian teachings. The hand sensor is a refined receiver for biomedical signals, which are taken from the reflex zones of the hand’s palm. The absorption of the signals is done by putting the hand on a set of sensor pegs of high conductivity furnished on an electronic circuit board.

Opposite to the Kirlian photography method that works with high frequencies, only low frequency currents are used on the Biopulsar® for the measurements of the skin resistance. Through this method it is guaranteed that during the measuring, the body cannot be inflicted with any harmful or disturbing impulses or manipulated by single probe point measuring systems.
